Year-6

From the Principal's Desk

The last quarter of the year is the year of retrospection to look into our achievements and also contemplate on all those things which need improvement. This always helps in motivating oneself to higher standards of performance. This is also that period of the year when there are exams of PG students and preparations of the forthcoming annual day celebrations of the college. The students get into the mood of preparing for various events. The annual sports week was also organized in the last week of December and saw an enthusiastic participation on the part of the students in various indoor and outdoor sports. The syllabi of practical and theory subjects are nearing completion in the undergraduate classes. It is time for B.Sc. III year students to prepare for their final exams and careers. TCS conducted the Academia Interface Program introductory talk in the college in which senior level executives connected with the Computer Science, IT, and BCA students of the college for participation in the interface programme for better placement prospects. I wish everyone a happy and prosperous New year 2020 ahead. I am hopeful we will foster peace and harmony and do our best for development of our students.
